

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to the use of a substance and/or substances or a composition containing said substance and/or substances, whereby said substance and/or substances inhibit(s) the formation and/or the effect of estrogen to stabilize, increase and/or restore collagen. The appropriate substances are aromatase inhibitors and/or anti-estrogens. Optionally, 5-alpha-reductase inhibitors are also used.

10